Guthrie Girl Finds
Way to Reduce
High Bread Cost

Miss Lulu Gaborn, head of the domestic science department of the Oklahoma City schools, a former Guthrie girl, has invented a bread-making system that is causing master bakers to worry.

The girls of her class make bread with flour, water and yeast. Here's how it's done: They save a bit of dough from each baking. That gives them plenty of yeast. After kneading the dough they let it rise and then bake. It's wholesome, too.

Miss Ruth Patton, one of the senior students, made an experiment. She baked three loaves weighing a total of 65 pounds. The cost was 50 cents, or less than half what the same amount would cost at the bakery. The bread was served at a high school luncheon.

GUTHRIE OPERA HOUSE

IS SAFE AND SANITARY

That the Guthrie opera house is both sanitary and safe is the decision of Theodore J. Barnhouse, chief of the fire department, and Contractor R. D. Cotton, who with Manager Ardery made a thorough inspection yesterday.

"We made a thorough inspection of the entire house, from basement to roof and find the building safe in every way," said Contractor Cotton. "You can say for me," said Chief Barnhouse, "that the building is sanitary and up to all requirements. I have made a careful examination."

Manager Ardery has spared no pains or expense during the past few months to put the opera house in splendid condition and those who attended "The Birth of a Nation" saw right and Saturday and Sunday will find it much improved in every way.

ROW BETWEEN APPLEY AND GEISSLER EXPLAINED

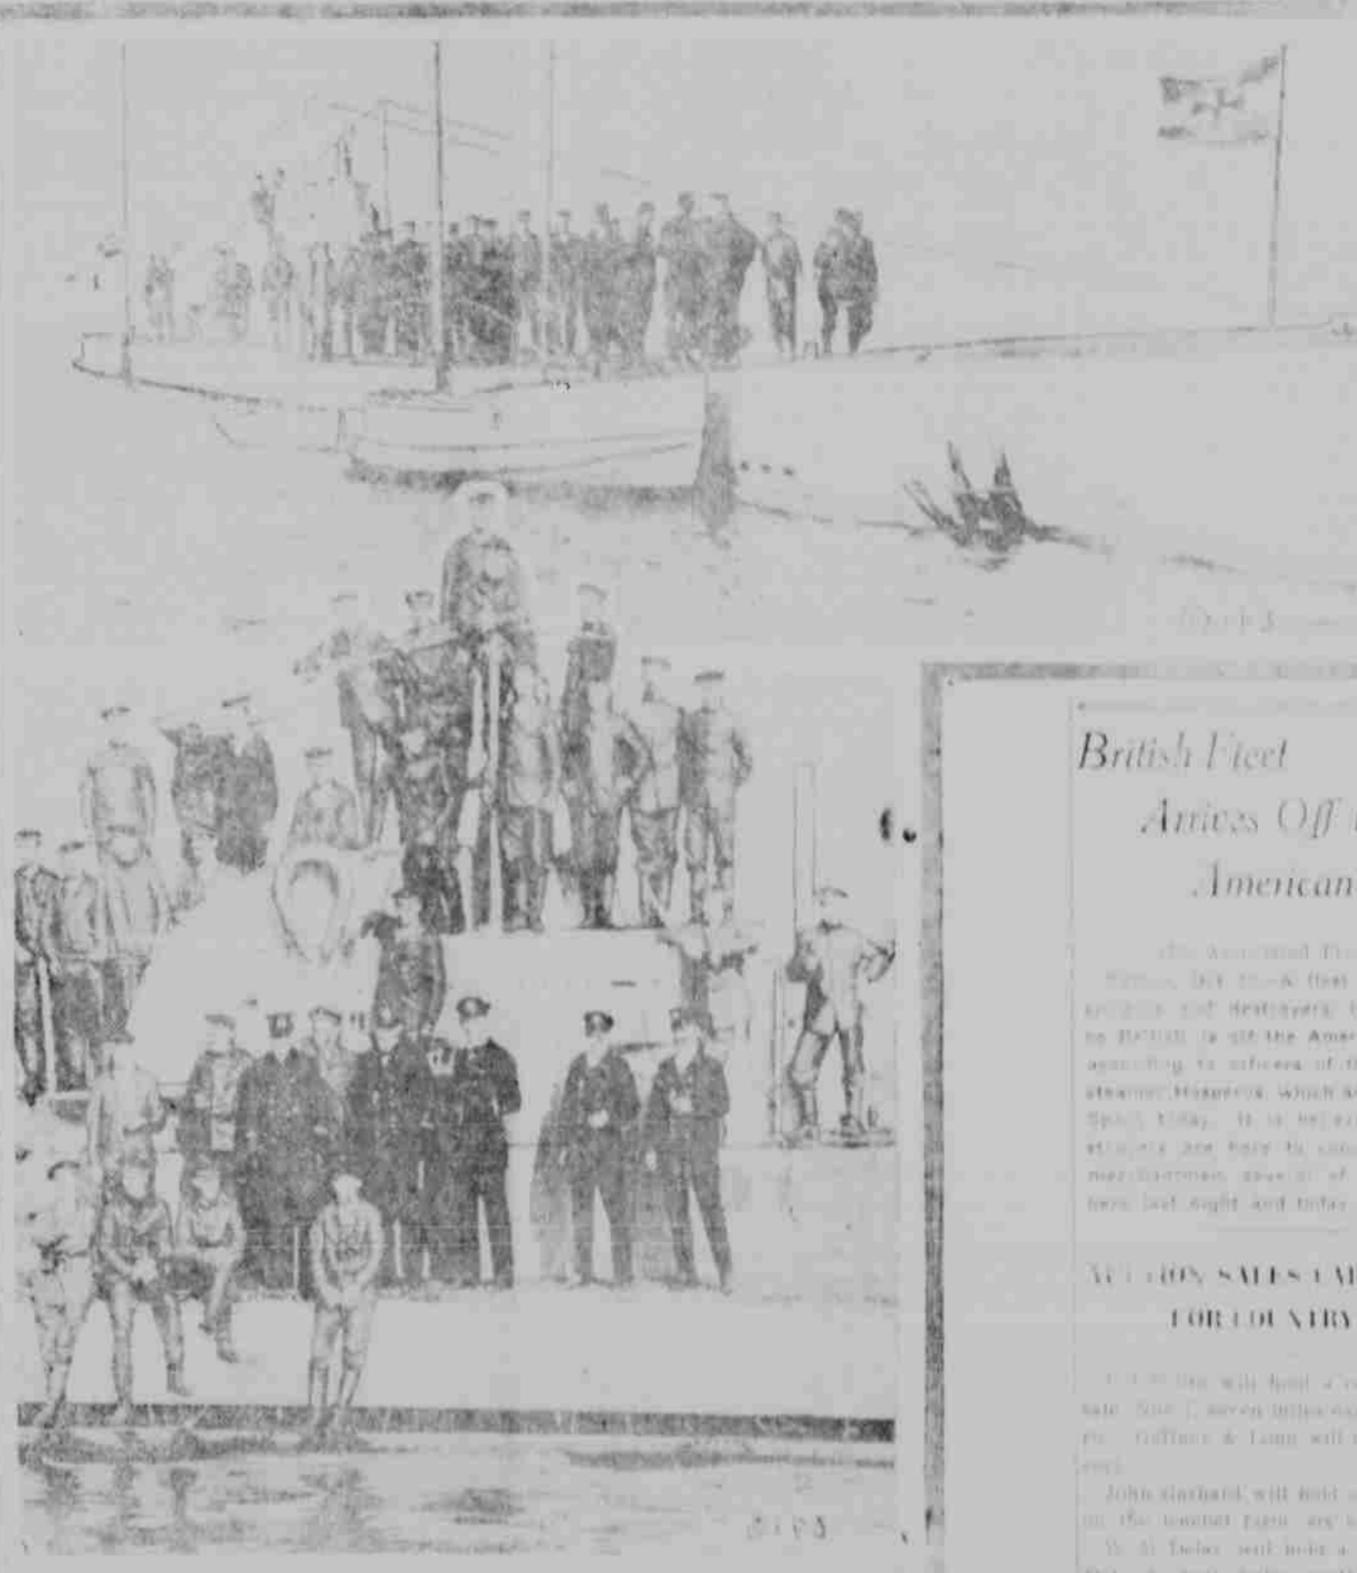

Oklahoma City, Oct. 13.—We hire new clerks around here every day, that is nothing out of the ordinary; the way Arthur H. Geissler, chairman of the Republican state central committee, lightly referred to the coming of John D. Appleby, state secretary, yesterday. "Appley knew of our action," he continued, "but he wouldn't publish a story about it in his newspaper." Appleby was ousted at a secret meeting on September 27, but news of it did not leak out until Wednesday.

Appleby is said to have upset Geissler's plans when he began publishing the Oklahoma State Capital, a Republican weekly. The chairman of the state committee, it is understood, intended to start a paper of his own and had hired a newspaper man to edit it when Appleby's publication made its appearance. This blocked Geissler's plans completely.

Radical Changes Planned Washington, Oct. 13.—Radical changes in the treatment of mails on neutral vessels is promised in a report by the British and French governments to the American protest against interference.
